Feb 25th, 2023

Are you a high school student interested in health science? Have questions about the industry and careers in the field? Well this is the perfect event for you!

Come NETWORK with graduate speakers, industry professionals and more who can speak about their university experience, and pursuing careers in medicine, dentistry, clinical research and more! At this conference, you will also get the opportunity to COLLABORATE with other students in our interactive workshops hosted by Let's Talk Science and Genome BC! Come have your questions answered at our 9th Annual Health Science Conference!

Lunch is provided!
